TO EXPURGATE THE BOOKS.

A huge task faces librarians and library boards all over the country if they follow the example set at the Carnegie public library in Clinton, Iowa. An order has been made to remove all books and publications of a seditious and disloyal character. There are probably few such books in any of the libraries but to review all books with sufficient care to detect any sentence which might approach the disloyal will mean continued reading by the members of library staffs. However, the recent activities of the government to suppress all publications using any matter which might be termed seditious will lighten the task so far as current literature is concerned.

IN GOOD WORK NOW.

Virginia Brooks Washburne, who won fame—or at least publicity—several years ago on account of her campaign against vice conditions in West Hammond, has been used for divorce by her husband, who charges desertion. The marriage came as a result of her somewhat spectacular career as a reformer and so the court proceedings are not surprising. About the best thing that has been recorded concerning this reformer is the fact that for months past she has been engaged in nursery work among the children in the poor districts of Chicago. There is an ample field in this line for those who want to do reform work, not much in the limelight but exceedingly helpful.

DEALING IN FUTURES.

The weather the past week has emphasized again that the farmer is necessarily largely a speculator. True, farming is considered a safe and certain business in this locality by comparison with some occupations, but nevertheless the farmer every year must gamble on the weather and upon climatic conditions. It is generally conceded that the outlook for the corn crop this year is the best that has been recorded for a long period. Rains came in the spring and summer at opportune times and the ground was in fine condition when it was plowed and at the time of planting. In almost every field the corn a week ago was considered in fine condition. Today it is still in that condition in many fields but there are other fields where the wind one night in a few minutes' time wrought havoc that will mean thousands of dollars of losses.

A Morgan county man who farms extensively mentioned yesterday that with a tenant he looked at a field of corn on his farm one day the past week and their estimate was a yield of 75 bushels to the acre. At that time there was no sign of storm or wind but two hours later a storm had come and almost leveled the corn in that field. The crop will by no means be a total loss, but the yield is badly cut and if rainy weather continues it is certain that some of the corn will be chaffy and in poor condition.

This is simply one instance out of a hundred which go to prove that the success of farming, while dependent in considerable measure on methods used, is nevertheless subject to all kinds of weather chances. Farming today calls into use the best brains of those who are well trained in the intricate business of agriculture. The same farmer mentioned above started to thresh oats the past week. He had all arrangements made to store the oats in his extensive bins, but when he opened the stacks he found that the rains had blown in so much that the sides that the oats were wet and it would not be safe at all to store them in the bins. A large force of men was present and ready for the work, but an entirely different force was required for transporting the oats to an elevator two or three miles away. The farmer had to make up his mind quickly to call the elevator by phone make the sale and then to quickly assemble the additional equipment. Farming is subject to all the whims of the weather, clerk and it is a big intricate business which today requires the wisdom and wits of those who have studied the business.

Fortunately in this community there are many farmers fully able to meet the exacting demands, and fortunately, too, weather conditions are usually so well equalized that the results each year are such that farming can still be called the safest kind of business.

THE RAILROAD STOCK INVESTORS' VIEWPOINT.

A number of local residents who own the stock of railroads are members of the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities, which was formed at Baltimore a few months ago. The organization purposes to gain all possible recognition for the rights of investors. Statistics give the astounding figures that more than a million persons in this country are direct owners of railroad stocks and that 56,000,000 are indirectly interested in these stocks because they are holders of life insurance policies or are savings bank depositors. The association, which is now offered by some of the strongest men in the country, will be active in its effort to present to the interstate commerce commission substantial arguments for the need of an advance in freight rates. The remarkable prosperity of a number of railroads has recently been pointed out thru the record of business done for the first half of this year, but the argument is presented to show that this condition of prosperity applies only to a few roads and that on the great bulk of railroads the increased costs for equipment and operation these days are more than offsetting the large earnings. The passage of the Adamson law, for instance, is estimated to have already cost the New York Central railroad $11,000,000. So members of the association of owners combat the statement that the present is an inopportune time for the railroads to be seeking an increase in rates. About the best argument that those who own railroad securities have for an increase is the depressed present condition of railroad stocks. The Illinois Central stock, for instance, has been lower recently than for a long period and the same thing is true of other railroad holdings which have always been considered gilt-edged and profitable.

The reason for this condition is partially because the railroad net earnings are not coming up to expectation and partially because of the general uncertainty as to what the government will do with reference to taxing the profits of corporations. A local holder of railroad securities has called attention to the following paragraphs which appeared a few weeks ago in the Chicago Tribune's "Investors' Guide":

"The National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities was formed at Baltimore a few days ago to undertake the task of getting the recognition for the rights of investors. Its first active step in this direction will be an endeavor to convince the interstate commerce commission of the need of an advance in freight rates."

"The convention of investors was called by the Continental Trust company, one of the larger banks at Baltimore and was attended by more than 400 men, many of them being officers of savings banks and insurance companies that have large sums invested in railway stocks and bonds."

"The most interesting thing brought out during the session was statistics on the number of people owning railway securities. It appears that about 1,000,000 persons are direct owners and that 46,000,000 holders of life insurance policies and 10,000,000 savings bank depositors own securities indirectly thru the investment of about one-fourth of the funds of these institutions in railway bonds. This list takes no account of the large investments of fire, marine and casualty companies and of schools and benevolent associations, all of which are held for the benefit of great numbers of individuals."

"Thus 'the railroads,' that lemagogues have denounced, that city counsels have baited, that legislatures have hampered, and that congress has oppressed, really are a majority of the people. If the new association does nothing but set this one fact not only realized and digested by everybody, it will have accomplished valuable work."

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

YEARS AHEAD
When you are old and tired and gray, and sit beside the evening fire, what will you be inspired to say, when children cry, "A tale, grand-sire!" They'll want to hear about the war that raged when you were young and hale; it is a topic you'll abhor, but you will have to spring a tale. "It was a time to rend the heart, when brave young fellows bled and died, but in the fuss I took no part—I didn't care to risk my hide. I did not join the battle ranks, but claimed exemption on the score that I supported seven aunts, and sickly grannies five or four. 'Defend the flag,' old men and fraus would stomp on the road and beg; but I stayed home and fed the cows—I didn't wish to lose a leg. My friends went forth with dauntless souls to battle on a foreign shore, where yet the mourning billow rolls, and hosts of them returned no more. And all those boys, some cloudless morn, I'll meet on Jordan's other side, and doubtless they will greet with scorn the man who feared to risk his hide."

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

September 9, 1849—Mr. Cowan (of Sugar Grove, Menard county) has invented a plough, which is really a very ingenious article. It is made without a weld, has two shares, can be changed from one horse, into a two horse plough, all steel, including the bar—of course very durable, and it is said very cheap. Mr. Cowan is about to establish a manufactory of this plough in this city (Springfield). He has applied for a patent.

FOUR YOUNG MINISTERS ADMITTED TO CONFERENCE

Class of Young Methodist Not As Large As Usual—Stirring Addresses at Educational Banquet—Rev. W. S. Phillips May Go To Carlinville Church.

(By C. R. Morrison).
Champaign, Ill., Sept. 8.—The admission into membership of a class of only four young men (two of them sons of the parsonage) looks ominously toward a depleted ministry in the near future. One of the reasons for this meager showing, is the rising standard of qualification for membership. An equivalent to a high school education is not very much of a barrier to ordination and election to membership, yet many vacancies are found in the list of appointments which must be supplied by the District Superintendent.

The class consisting of Homer H. Waltmeir of Columbus, Ill., George L. Lash of Quincy, Paul A. Shields of Cadwell and Joseph D. Butler for the past year a student at Drew Theological Seminary, were reported upon by the board of examiners, and represented by their district superintendent and elected for ordination and membership in the Illinois Conference. The address to the class was delivered by Bishop Nicholson and took on, according to the spirit of the hour, the seriousness of the time confronting us. He said that at the great meeting in Chicago when the Canadian Killies were recruiting from the sons of the North and the Chaplain of the regiment spoke, "He said when the regiment went out their number was 1,100, now only 26 of that 1,100 remain. "This struggle," exclaimed the Bishop, "is no child's play. It will call out nobles and the most effective in our national life. It is so with the co-operating task of the ministry. I am not in sympathy with the exemption clause of the selective draft, that made the ministry and candidates for the ministry a protected class. "This met with a hearty applause. One of the members of the conference, Rev. Howard Leach of Ludlow was among the selected in the first draft, but did not take advantage of the exemption, and is awaiting the call to the cantonment.

The Educational Banquet.
The tenth annual educational banquet was held in the magnificent Masonic building at 5:15 Friday. The tickets were limited to 350 and were soon disposed of. It was the most effective of the series. Hon. B. F. Harris of Champaign, presided. His address was well received and started again the war spirit already so largely in evidence. His terrific arraignment of the Prussian autocracy, was an assembly of words, seldom heard in public address, but it met a hearty response.

The Wesleyan bunch were on to their job with repartee and song college yells, calling the nine rays for each speaker, even calling Bishop Nicholson "Tommy", in the most affectionate manner. But the climax was reached when Dean Birney of Boston arose to speak on the "Pulpit and Patriotism". The choice words of Chairman Harris were evenly matched by the Deans attack on the pacifist attitude, when the very foundations of civilization were being disturbed by the Hun, and women and children put to death by these war lords, in sympathy with the terrible Turk. When "Teddy" was referred to, applause grew in vigor, and standing, cheers were given to both speaker and spoken of which concluded with the chorus of the Battle Hymn of the Republic. Old timers said "We feel the thrill of the days of the Sixties," Bishop Nicholson prefaced his remarks by quoting Bishop Quale, in saying that Dean Birney, has taken the "Pacifist" out of Pacifist and left only the "Fist".

The meeting closed in time to take up the stirring theme again at the church when President James and Secretary A. W. Harris of N. Y., spoke of College life and work, and the war, and after the war. It was a great event.

Notes.
The name of A. A. White of Tuscola, is also mentioned in connection with the Rantoul pulpit. He was being interviewed today by a delegation from that city.

W. S. Phillips is now named for Carlinville, whether it will remain there waits to be seen.

C. E. Booth of Chestnut is placed at Park church, Bloomington where a former Brooklyn pastor was assigned and from that church W. W. Theobald came when he exchanged four years ago. Very little has been divulged of cabinet work, but when reference was made to the slow progress made in that secret gathering, Bishop Nicholson remarked at the banquet: "We may have had seven sessions of the cabinet, and not done very much, but when the appointments are read, you will think we have done a good deal", which created a great consternation, among the expectant ones, but we all shall be compelled to wait until Monday night to know result of their deliberations.

H. P. GREEN ACCEPTED FOR MILITARY SERVICE

Changes in Weight Requirements Made Possible His O. K. by Local Board.

Hugh P. Green was re-examined at the office of the local exemption board Saturday and altho just a trifle underweight was accepted for military service by the local board. Mr. Green was examined first at Army Hall Aug. 7th, but was then considered too much underweight and excused from service for thirty days for re-examination. Since that time there have been some changes made in the minimum weight requirements by the government and the standard weight lowered. While the minimum weight requirement of a man of Mr. Green's height, 5 feet 11 inches, in the regular army is 162 pounds, the minimum for the new national army has been brought down 30 pounds and made 132 pounds. Mr. Green weighed at the exemption office yesterday 128 pounds. So that, altho he is still four pounds underweight, he was accepted by the local board and it is expected that he will be passed O. K. by the federal officers at Camp Taylor.

Some miscreant some time Wednesday night or early Thursday morning shot a cow belonging to Patrolman Jordan. Mr. Jordan does not know whether the shooting was accidental or whether it was done by someone who has a grudge against him.

NURSES ADVOCATED

Principal of Training School in Chicago Points to Reasons for Giving Nurses This Recognition.

A good deal has been written on the question of granting commissions to nurses in army service. It is accounted as somewhat essential for nurses who go abroad to have commissions, as by serving with commissions they will be afforded additional protection and at the same time will have recognition that their services justly deserve. A recent letter on this subject has just been published by Miss McMillan, principal of the training school for nurses and addressed to the president of the Presbyterian Hospital Board, Chicago:

The question of Congress granting a commission to the graduate nurse while on government duty, has as you know, been under discussion, but does not seem to be entirely understood and for that reason I would like to present a few of the facts to you and ask your assistance in securing proper consideration of the matter.

The graduate nurse has learned by experience that Military ranking is necessary to secure recognition, and therefore to obtain results, in the military world. With the definite place, she is dependent on the judgment and good-will of heavily burdened officers, each commander deciding as to the opportunity given individual groups of nurses to put their professional knowledge into use; as to conditions allotted them in traveling and in camp; as to courtesies of treatment, and in fact every detail that makes up daily life in a Military Hospital.

Lack of Official Status
It was this same lack of official status that hampered Florence Nightingale's work in the Crimean War, and which took all her indomitable courage and strong personality to contend against.

The British graduate nurses, in this present war, while continuing to nurse in the hospitals of France and England, openly resent the undignified and unfair position in which the government has placed them, lack of appreciation of their services, of consideration for their welfare, and most of all, the lost opportunity of skilled nursing for the British soldiers. Instances are numerous in which untrained and unskilled but titled or influential persons are placed in charge of the seriously wounded, while the graduate nurse, who is competent, but influential and unprotected by Military status, is delegated to duties which might be performed by any strong person. British Nursing Journals state that young women of a few months' training are sent to France and given higher authority than the graduate nurse without family or political backing. The unfortunate part of this is, of course, the confusion and lack of professional management, for which the sick soldier has to suffer.

Can Maintain Authority
It is to save the American troops from the same lack of expert nursing that a commission is asked for the American graduate nurse while on government duty, with the belief that her position being thus strengthened, she will be more able to maintain her authority against well-meaning but harmful amateurs. A commission would also obtain for the nurse a little more comfort in travel and camp life; it would secure some consideration if taken as a prisoner; it might prevent some of the petty humiliations nurses are putting up with. In the practical working of a Military Hospital there will be many helpers, orderlies, maids, and assistant women—not nurses. It is vital to the proper administration of the hospital that the nurses who are responsible for the care of the patients and their welfare shall have such authority as will compel respect and obedience from these necessary helpers. Many of them will be enlisted men and will not be apt to recognize authority unless it is fortified with a title. To get efficiency and the best results in such hospitals such nurses should have authority second only to the medical and surgical men, and such titles as will make this authority evident. To Conserve Health and Strength
As the nurse at best will experience many discomforts, and some hardships; as she will have periods of long and strenuous hours of work; as there is the possibility of loss of health and even life, and as her services in caring for the sick both at home and abroad are much needed, it does not seem unreasonable to ask a consideration which would help conserve health and strength. Medical and nursing authorities of the world recognize the high standing of the American Nurses' School and consequently of the American graduate nurse. Nurses selected by the Red Cross to serve the Government represent the very best of the American graduates. The government does not have to spend time or money training them; they are experts, ready for executive or bed-side duties; they are disciplined professional women. Many of them have given up good positions, others have left remunerative private practice. The salary paid to the nurse by the government is a very moderate one; she is not granted a pension or an insurance and in case of becoming incapacitated for work, has no assurance of permanent care.

Granting rank of 2nd Lieutenant to the nurses will not interfere with the authority of the medical profession, as the lowest ranking given to a medical army man is that of First Lieutenant. It has been sanctioned by a number of the leading medical men of the country. To quiet the nurse and to please her, it has been suggested that a "Civil Title" be given. This would not satisfy her as she is not craving title, but the results which Military, not Civil status, will bring—the possibility for effective work and position which she may hold without loss of self-respect.

The nurses going to the front are too absorbed with work to take any action in this matter, and it is being presented by those who stay at home and will not profit by commissions. It is felt that they will have the support of the public who understand graduate nurses, and of those who are interested in securing their services for the troops.

ODD FELLOWS TO FORM
COUNTY ORGANIZATION

Committee Appointed at Recent Meeting to Visit Each Lodge in County—General Meeting in this City Later Part of Month.

Plans were initiated last Monday night at the regular meeting of No. 243 Odd Fellows which will result in the formation of a county organization of the order. Members of No. 243 appointed a committee consisting of Ellis Henderson, William E. Thomson and C. E. Williamson. This committee attended the meeting of Hill Lodge No. 4, Tuesday evening and presented the proposition and No. 4 appointed a committee consisting of T. S. Martin, A. G. Cody and Arthur G. Ellis.

It is the purpose of these committees to visit the lodges in the county and urge the appointment of a committee of three to attend a general meeting to be held in Jacksonville the latter part of the month. The members of the committees if they cannot go themselves are empowered to appoint a substitute.

The committees commenced work Saturday evening when visits were made Arcadia and Concord lodges. The committee visiting Arcadia was composed of W. E. Thomson, Arthur Ellis, Dr. J. M. Wolfe and R. C. Allen. The matter was presented to the lodge and met with enthusiastic reception. The lodge appointed the following committee, Charles Ogle, George Smith and J. J. Clark. The Arcadia brothers served a watermelon banquet to the visitors.

The committee visiting Concord was composed of T. S. Martin, C. O. Bayha, Carl H. Weber and C. E. Williamson. The Concord lodge entered heartily into the plan and appointed a committee consisting of Ora Hamm, Truman Cowdin and Carl Rentschler.

The committees will visit the remainder of the lodges this week and urge the appointment of committees to attend the general meeting. Some years ago the Odd Fellows had a tri-county organization. It was added to until it became a seven county affair and became too unwieldy and finally dissolved. Local Odd Fellows believe they can have a splendid organization consisting only of Morgan county lodges and that it will be of great benefit not only to the lodges themselves but to the order in general.

BUGGY AND AUTOMOBILE
IN NIGHT COLLISION

Alden Brown Driving Ford Car Crashed Into Buggy—Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Harney and Child Injured—Were Brought to Hospital and Later Removed Home.

An unfortunate affair for all concerned occurred on the state aid highway known as the Morton road just east of Jacksonville Saturday evening about eight o'clock when the horse drawn rig containing Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Harney and two small children was struck by the Ford car driven and owned by Alden Brown of this city.

The accident happened just a short distance east of the Mauvais-terre Creek bridge on the Morton road and near the Oak Lawn Sanitarium. Mr. and Mrs. Harney were driving west, coming to the city, and had with them their two little daughters, Opal, aged 3 years and Fern, aged 11 months. They were driving one horse hitched to an ordinary storm buggy. As they reached the bottom of the slope in the road at the point mentioned they saw an automobile approaching them and are said to have driven as far to the right side of the road as possible to avoid a collision. Alden Brown, driver of the auto seemed to lose control of the car as he neared the Harney vehicle and crashed almost squarely into it.

Four are Injured.

All of the occupants of the rig were thrown out. Mr. Harney was badly cut by glass and bruised by the fall to the ground. He was thrown in under the Brown car and water leaking from the radiator scalded his left shoulder. Mrs. Harney, while escaping the scalding, was about as badly hurt by the glass and fall as her husband. Opal, the oldest daughter was also cut about the head and bruised. The baby, Fern, was uninjured. Mr. Brown, it is stated, was not thrown out of his car and was uninjured.

Otto Wood of near Pisgah was a short distance east of Mr. Harney also on his way to Jacksonville, when the accident occurred. With Mr. Wood were his wife, Leonard Wood, Arthur Green and Miss Bernice Wood. These people corroborated the main details of the story as given above and while they did not see the collision were upon the scene a few few seconds after it happened.

Taken to Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood and Miss Bernice Wood immediately brought Mrs. Harney and the two little children in to Jacksonville and to Our Saviour's Hospital. Elmer Sooy of Murrayville came along in his car soon after the Wood car arrived on the scene and Mr. Sooy and Leonard Wood and Mr. Green brought Mr. Harney to the hospital and Mr. Brown was also brought in and taken to the police station where he remained during the night. Dr. Norris was called and gave the injured people the necessary medical attention.

R. S. Wood, living east of Jacksonville, by whom Mr. Harney is employed, was notified and came to the city in his Cadillac car and later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Harney and children were all able to be taken to their home on the Wood farm. Mr. Harney is a brother of Robert Harney who died recently at his home near Woodson a few hours after he had been found ill lying in a pasture.

FARM NOTES

Messrs. A. and A. O. Harris of the vicinity of Orleans were able to visit the city yesterday owing to the rain which fell the night before. They began threshing their crop of oats and after about a thousand bushels had left the straw it began to rain and it rained hard. Mr. Harris said they were threshing from the shock and the grain was in good condition and he anticipates no evil effects so far to the oats still in the shock. The reporter heard of one owner of a threshing machine who had so far been unable to thresh all his own oats.

DISTRICT RED CROSS NURSES IN CONFERENCE

Executive Committee Held Meeting Here Saturday Night—Applications for Membership Considered—Requirements of Red Cross Nursing Service Explained.

A district meeting of the executive committee for the Red Cross nursing service was held in this city Saturday evening. Miss Lucy Mount is chairman of this committee which has charge of districts 13, 14, 15 and 16, embracing approximately a third of the counties of the state. Miss Alice Dalby of Springfield is the secretary of the committee. Among nurses members of the committee in attendance were Misses Dalby, Pitman, Lesser, Lawrence and Mathews, Springfield; Miss Velma Davies, Ashland; Miss Ella Walker of this city. The conference was held in the office of Dr. Carl E. Black in the Ayers National bank building and the session lasted for several hours, as business of importance relative to the nursing service was considered. Action was taken upon the names of fifteen or twenty applicants. Names approved will be forwarded to the state committee. As previously mentioned, there are now but seven Red Cross nurses in this county and the number in the district is about forty.

In these days questions relative to the work of the nursing service and requirements for admission are so frequent that the following facts are printed, taken from a pamphlet of recent date issued by the American National Red Cross:

Service Organized in 1909. The American Nurses' Association at its annual meeting held in 1909, voted to affiliate with the American Red Cross and to cooperate in the organization of a Red Cross Nursing Service. Later in the same year a National Committee on Nursing Service, composed of fifteen members representing the two organizations, was appointed.

This Committee was made responsible for the establishment of uniform standards for the enrollment of Red Cross nurses for the appointment of State and Local Committees, and exercises general supervision over all matters pertaining to the Nursing Service of the Red Cross.

In accordance with a proclamation issued by the President of the United States in 1911, the American Red Cross was authorized by the Government as the only volunteer agency permitted to render aid to the land and naval forces in time of war.

Enrolled Red Cross nurses therefore constitute the reserve of the Army and Navy Nurse Corps. In addition to war relief service they are frequently called out for volunteer service in time of disaster and where large numbers are assembled for conventions, parades, celebrations, and for other occasions where accidents and illness are likely to occur.

Of 8,000 nurses and over already enrolled under the American Red Cross (1,500 being enrolled during 1916), many have had training or experience in the care of contagious diseases and their prevention. It is the purpose of the Red Cross to utilize the services of such nurses if called upon for aid during serious epidemics.

Town and County Service. To meet the obvious needs for public health nursing in rural districts and small towns, the American Red Cross established a Town and Country Nursing Service in 1912. A special committee was made responsible for the direction of this service, with a Superintendent as the executive officer. To coordinate all nursing activities, responsibility for the Town and Country Nursing Service was later transferred to the National Committee, and the title of Superintendent of this Bureau was changed to Director.

Courses of instruction for women other than nurses have been provided by the Red Cross and placed under the direction of the Nursing Service, these courses being Elementary Hygiene and Home Care of the Sick, Home Dietetics and Preparation of Surgical Dressings. A special circular, No. 138, gives information concerning this instruction.

With the rapid development of these courses and the need of a large corps of Red Cross nurses as instructors and examiners for these classes, together with the increasing demand for Red Cross Public Health Nurses, the National Committee has been enlarged, and includes in its membership, representation of nurses, not only from the American Nurses' Association, but from the National League of Nursing Education, and the National Organization for Public Health Nursing.

Provision was made at the annual meeting of the Red Cross in 1915 not only for the appointment of such a Committee but for the creation of a Bureau of Nursing Service and the employment of a Director.

The term "Red Cross Nursing Service" includes the National Committee, State and Local Committees on Nursing Service, and such other committees as it may deem necessary to appoint, all enrolled Red Cross nurses including members of the Town and Country Service, enrolled dietitians, sisterhoods, and other orders, when assigned to duty under the Red Cross, and women volunteers selected for hospital service or other duties relating to the care of the sick.

All nurses employed by Chapters, other Red Cross organizations or affiliated societies authorized to use the Red Cross insignia, must be enrolled Red Cross nurses and subject to the regulations of the Nursing Service.

All Red Cross courses of instruction, except those in First Aid and Accident Prevention, are under the control of the Red Cross Nursing Service.

RAYMOND DOUGLAS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Eleven Year Old Son of W. S. Douglas Suffers Wound in Foot—Rifle Was in Hands of Robert Kellar.

A near-tragedy was enacted at the corner of Spates and Rogers streets recently when Raymond, the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Douglas of Spates street, was shot in the right foot by Robert Kellar, 17 years old.

Kellar, who is employed in the blacksmith shop at the C. P. & St. L. R. shops, was granted a holiday Wednesday afternoon to witness or take part in the patriotic demonstration in this city. Instead of coming in to see the parade Kellar went to the home of his uncle, Charles Antreter, 828 Rogers street, with whom he has been living for the past two years, and getting a 22 calibre rifle, went out to do some practice shooting.

On Spates street, just around the corner from the Antreter residence the children of Mr. Douglas were playing. Raymond, 11, Wilson Douglas, 7 years and little Earl Fernandes, aged 9. They were running one another about and playing games. They failed to notice Kellar with his gun on Rogers street until they had dashed around the corner. Then it seemed to Raymond that Kellar had the gun pointed directly at him. The boy realizing his danger, made a quick leap backward, and as he jumped Kellar discharged the gun, the bullet entering young Douglas' right foot, just at the top of the instep.

Dr. C. C. Cochran was immediately called and he and Dr. Duncan administered an anesthetic and probed the wound for the bullet for some time but were unable to locate it. It is said that it is possible that the bullet struck one of the larger bones in the foot and bounced back out of the opening in the top of the foot. Yesterday Raymond was reported to be getting along very well and there seems to be no undue soreness in the wound such as would be the case if the lead was still in the wound.

Kellar when asked about the shooting said that he had placed an apple on a bank of dirt and was shooting at it, or was in the act of shooting at it when the children dashed around the corner and got in range of his weapon.

WOMEN PLAN TO WORK ALONG DEFINITE LINES

Twentieth District Conference Held Here Saturday—Registration Will Be First Step in Order to Systematize Efforts—Organization Urged By Council of Defense.

Women of the Twentieth Congressional district held a meeting at the Peacock Inn Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, the main object of which was to perfect plans for carrying on the work proposed by the Women's Committee of the National Council of Defense, Illinois division. Mrs. E. D. Glandon of Pittsfield presided at Saturday's conference and introduced Miss Strohm of Chicago, the principal speaker of the morning.

At the noon hour luncheon was served at the Peacock Inn and in the afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock an open meeting was held at the public library. At this time Miss Strohm again addressed the convention, her remarks being along the same general line as at the morning session. Miss Annie Hinrichsen was scheduled to speak at the afternoon meeting but was unable to be present. Following her address Miss Strohm gave instruction in registration to a number of women, who will later instruct others.

District Well Represented.
The Saturday convention was presided over by Mrs. E. D. Glandon of Pittsfield, president District Federation of Woman's clubs. Mrs. Herbert Capps is recording secretary, Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson corresponding secretary; Dr. Milligan is county chairman and Mrs. Ben Lorton vice chairman.

In addition to those previously mentioned, those present from out of the city were Mrs. Edwin Beggs, Ashland; Mrs. E. R. Curry, Mt. Sterling; Mrs. T. K. Condit and Mrs. T. J. Scherer, Beardstown; Mrs. W. J. Houston, Avard; Mrs. A. J. Curry, Pisgah; Mrs. Mary Litter, Leck; Mrs. Ada Glenn, Ashland; Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. Anderson, Chapin.

The purpose of the proposed organization is to list patriotic women in a systematic way and thus definitely determine the varied lines of activity. As each woman registers she indicates on the card prepared for the purpose the line of activity for which she feels herself the best fitted. The card also gives an idea of the time that she may be able to devote to the proposed work. There are markings also on the cards which will indicate women who may be called upon in times of special emergencies.

To Avoid Duplication.
Up to the present time a great many duties have devolved upon Red Cross workers which do not specifically belong to them. When the new plan of organization has been thoroughly perfected there will not be the duplication and the overlapping of organizations and committees which now exists. The plan proposed is for the elimination of various committees and organizations and systematizing and intensifying activities along definite lines of accomplishment. The work that the women will do is at the request of the National Council of Defense and is in the line of patriotic duty. In fact, many of the duties which the women are thus called upon to perform could be enforced if the women of the land were not willing for personal and patriotic reasons to undertake it.

It is proposed to organize in a way which will not only effectively meet all war conditions but certain conditions which are sure to come after the war. The women have problems to work out in connection with the soldiers in the training camps, in actual warfare and after they return. There is also definite work in connection with the families of some soldiers. Food conservation and household economies in connection with the food supply will constitute one definite part of the activities.

Many Lines of Activity.
While the women will engage most actively in work occasioned by the war, provision will be made in the organization for giving attention to problems that are always present. Organized charity work must be done at home in the years to come to just as great an extent—or possibly greater—than at other times. The organization contemplates certain activities for helping solve the social problems. Attention will be given to industrial conditions as related to women and children. So it might be stated in summarizing that the organization which the Woman's Committee of the National Council of Defense proposes will be a sort of clearing house for questions relating to the welfare of soldiers at home and abroad, to their families and to general social conditions resulting from the war.

As previously stated, it was the original intention to have the registration work begin the 17th of September but the date has been changed to November 5 because the time is necessary to acquaint women generally with the work in contemplation. The women who attended the conference Saturday were greatly impressed by the statements made by Miss Strohm and will enter heartily into the work of enlisting the co-operation of the women of this county and district.

The secretary was instructed to mail to each Sunday school Superintendent a letter thanking them for their most hearty co-operation in the work during the past year, and asking for a continuance of their interest during the work of the coming year.

The following precinct presidents were appointed:

Murrayville—Wm. Wiswell.
Jacksonville—C. L. Mathis.

Meredosia—Rev. W. H. Hoffman.
Lynnville—Frank Masters.

Chapin—Mrs. Carrie Johnson.
Alexander—Rev. Shaw.
Waverly—Mrs. Minnie Barrows.

The work of the coming year was thoroughly talked over and it was decided to hold a precinct convention in each of the above precincts during the coming year with good workers present. It was decided also to specialize on the cradle roll and the home department work during the year, as it was felt that these two departments of the Sunday schools are vital factors in upbuilding and maintaining the Sunday schools and for the spreading of Christian influences in the homes of the communities.

The county officers are now engaged in compiling an accurate list of all soldier boys from the Sunday schools in the county, as it is desired to keep in touch with each one in various ways, and more especially through the Army Y. M. C. A. and the International Sunday School Association.

MISS CLARA LANE NOW BRIDE OF LIEUT. RUSSEL

Marriage of Well Known Young People Solemnized at Noon Saturday—Left for Camp Grant Immediately After Ceremony.

Saturday at high noon a pretty wedding service was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lane, 835 West State street when their daughter, Miss Clara Elizabeth Lane became the bride of Lieut. Stuart Russel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Russel.

Only a few intimate friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony which was said by the Rev. J. P. Langton, rector of Trinity Episcopal church. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Lieut. Russel was in uniform and the bride was gown in a brown traveling suit and wore a corsage of Ward roses.

Attractive decorations prevailed in the Lane home, garden flowers, white clematis and pink roses being used with artistic effect. Simplicity marked the whole ceremony which was nevertheless impressive in every detail.

Lieut. Russel had only leave of absence from Camp Grant for the wedding. He and his bride left immediately after the ceremony for Rockford and will remain there while he is stationed at Camp Grant. The guests accompanied the newlyweds to the Chicago & Alton station where farewells were gayly spoken and rice was copiously in evidence.

Both Lieut. and Mrs. Russel are prominent Jacksonville young people. Mrs. Russel was educated at Whipple academy and Illinois college and the groom also attended these institutions and later was a student at St. John's Military academy and the University of Illinois. Their marriage which is the development of a long standing friendship was hastened somewhat it is understood by the fact that Lieut. Russel is likely to soon leave for service with the army in France.

EDITORS ENDORSE PLANS FOR SOLDIERS' LIBRARIES

First Shipment of Books for Soldiers Will be Sent by the Jacksonville Public Library to St. Louis Friday.

The first shipment of books for the soldiers was gathered together at the Public Library and boxed yesterday. They will be shipped to St. Louis by freight today and will be redistributed from there. There were 271 books in the boxes and 54 magazines. The magazines were all very recent, nothing older than three months being included at this time.

Over two hundred of the books were good stories. There were twenty volumes of drama, poetry and essays, eight volumes of history and biography, twenty-two French study books, four religious and ethical books and two humorous books.

On August 28th, the Jacksonville Journal commented favorably in its editorial columns on the gathering of books for the soldiers. In a recent issue of the Poughkeepsie Eagle is the following editorial: "Among the heap of literature that comes every day to the office of the Eagle-News in behalf of various projects or causes, a circular letter headed 'War Service Committee, American Library Association,' attracted the attention of the writer. What has the Library Association to do with the war? was the first thought on looking at it. But it appears that the American Library Association has been asked by the commission on Training Camp Activities to furnish library facilities to the National Army Campments and to the National Guard Training camps. It is a good plan. The letter of Mr. Harold Braddock, the director, says by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts upon the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, etc.

MEMBER OF LONG TIME MORGAN COUNTY FAMILY

Mrs. George W. Campbell is Daughter of Late William McAllister, Who in Early Days Had Bakery in This City.

Living in a pleasant home in South Jacksonville is Mrs. George W. Campbell, a lady who has certainly done well her part in the great struggle. Her son Frank was for some years an acceptable employee in the Journal office and later went to Washington City where he was in a government printing office for some years. Then he studied veterinary surgery and is now at Camp Mead, Maryland where he will await orders and will probably be employed in the cavalry as veterinary surgeon, a position which is very important in the army.

Her son Pearl Campbell, is at Fort Niagara, New York in the officers' training camp where he is in line for a captain's commission. He passed his examination Aug. 23rd and is now hard at work.

Mrs. Campbell has a third son, Ora, a resident of this city. Her husband died a number of years ago. The two thirds of her family seem likely to be called on to serve their country Mrs. Campbell is in no wise rebellious she has the mother love for her boys and a desire that they may be useful to the country and be returned to her in the end when the war is over. Both are married but have no children. Frank's wife is from Litchfield and she may be here and at her former home this fall and winter.

Can Be Proud of Family History.

Mrs. Campbell has a family history of which she has good cause to be proud. Her father was the late William McAllister, and Ottawa McAllister is her only brother. In early days her father had a bakery on West Court street probably somewhere on the west part of the ground occupied by the Douglas hotel near the old time Lambert meat market. He later moved across the street to a small building on the west part of the ground occupied by Harry Benson's restaurant. He had the honor of starting the first bread wagon ever driven in this place. He was much interested in a ditching machine on which he spent much time and money.

Her mother's name was Daniels, a sister of Veerin Daniels so well known in this community. Her maternal grandmother was named Barton and was a sister of the late Rev. Charles Barton, so well and favorably known in this community. He was a member of the first class in Illinois college in 1829 and a man widely known and much respected. The late Samuel Daniels of Joy Prairie was a brother of her maternal grandfather, and father of Mrs. James C. Fairbank on Grove street, and the late George Daniels of Joy Prairie. The illustrious Clara Barton was a cousin of Mrs. Campbell's maternal grandmother.

Mrs. Campbell was born on Grove street in the house now occupied by Mrs. Laura Wyatt Harney. Her father built the house. Her father once owned the John Joy farm on Joy Prairie and with the proceeds of the place built the house.

Overland to California. In 1853 her father went overland to California and after five years and during that time her mother and two little children, Ottawa and sister, now Mrs. Campbell went to live with grandfather Daniels on a place now occupied by Stansfield Baldwin. When Mr. McAllister returned from California he lived a short time on North Sandy street north of North street. On the corner was a meat market and next to their residence from which they went to a home on Clay avenue, where now Mrs. Campbell's son Ora lives.

Her husband's father was known as Major Campbell on account of the part he took in the Black Hawk war. He was a resident of Springfield and being somewhat progressive decided he would drive to St. Louis and see what kind of a machine they had to cook with and if it was any better than the old time fireplace.

Iron Cook Stove a Marvel.

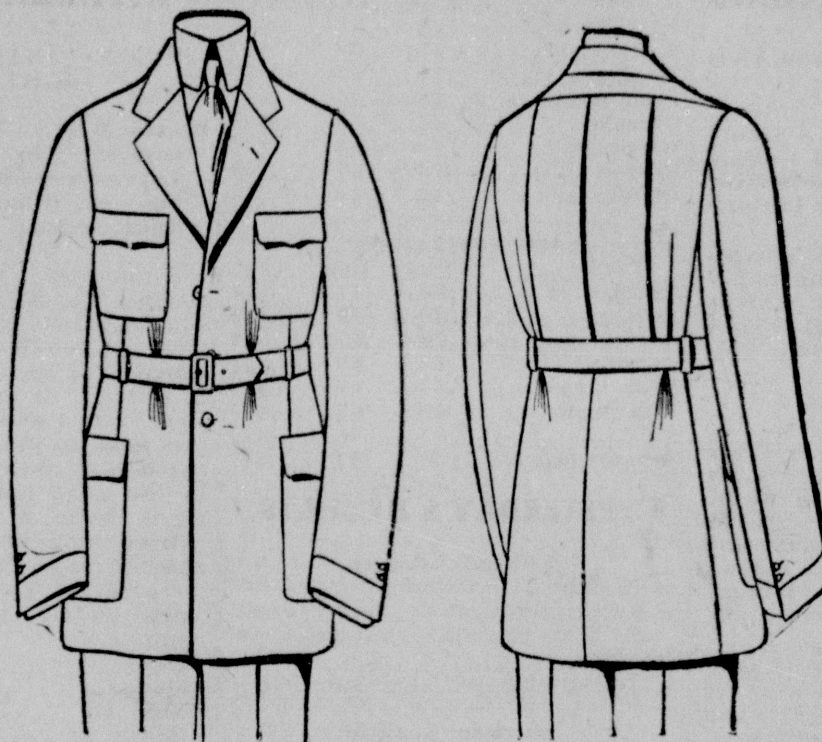

He drove back with an iron affair they called a stove and it was indeed a marvel. Before that time the old standard dutch oven was used for biscuits and the pone board for corn bread. Then some enterprising people had the reflector, which was a large tin box with one broad side open to the fire. Shelves were placed in the box and the material to be baked on the shelves and it answered a very good purpose but so wedded were the good old dames to their fireplaces that many times they wouldn't bother with making a fire in the stove but would go to the old fireplace to prepare the meal.

The stove bought by Major McAllister was indeed primitive but attracted many curious sight seers. It had a firebox and the oven was on top making what used to be known as a step stove, for no one then ever thought of an oven lower down than the fire.

MORGAN HUNTING AND FISHING CLUB ORGANIZED

Members Consist of Old Booneville Hunting and Fishing Club Which Disbanded a Short Time Ago—Will Have Club House North of Bath—Officers Elected.

Saturday afternoon the Morgan County Fishing and Hunting Club was organized. The personnel of the club consists of the active members of the Old Booneville Hunting and Fishing Club which disbanded some time ago.

The new club is limited to a membership of twelve. At the meeting Saturday afternoon, officers of the club were elected as follows: President, Hugh Cobb; Vice President, J. W. Strawn; Secretary and Treasurer, Charles W. Blasse. The membership in addition to the above named officers is as follows: Charles B. Graft, William Cleary, James McGrew, Charles Schirz, Henry Strawn, J. B. Corrington, Ben Davenport, Carl West and John Higler.

When the Booneville Hunting and Fishing club disposed of its holdings to Finley Barrel of Chicago a few weeks ago a tract of ground was secured just north of the limits of the city of Bath. At that time it was not known whether or not the old club house would be secured for the new site.

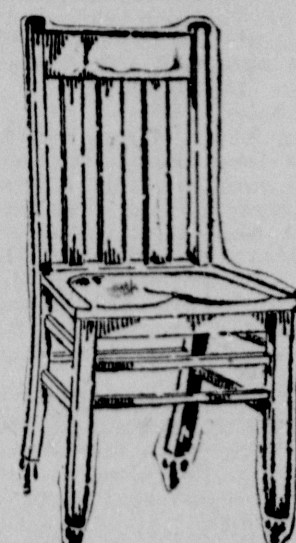

Since then arrangements have been completed for securing the old club house. It will be wrecked and the lumber used to build the club house on the new site. It is proposed to build a four room bungalow and work will begin within a few days. It is expected that the club house will be ready for occupancy before cold weather sets in.

The members of the new club are all old timers in the camping game. The club starts under most auspicious circumstances and will no doubt be a worthy successor of the old Booneville club.

EARLY THIS WEEK THE MILLINERY DEPARTMENT WILL SHOW A BIG LOT OF THE SWELLEST FALL AND WINTER HATS YET RECEIVED—NEW HYLAND DESIGNS HERE EXCLUSIVELY. F. J. WADDELL & CO.

Pale Hose Gain One Half a Game
on Boston and Now Lead League
by Six and a Half Games—Detroit
Downs St. Louis in Twelve Innings

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Chicago put all its attack in the third inning today and shutout Cleveland 2 to 0. After one out Eddie Collins singled and Jackson doubled, scoring Eddie Collins, Feisch walked and Gandil singled, sending Jackson home. A double play then wound up the inning. Ci-cotte opposed Bagby, and allowed only four scattered hits, two each being made by Graney and Speaker.

As a result of today's victory Chicago gained one half a game on Boston and now is leading the league by six and a half games. Boston was unable to play at Philadelphia on account of rain.

More than 8,400 soldiers and sailors were guests of Comiskey and the eight military units represented were presented with baseball uniforms, with the names "America" and "U.
S. A." on the shirts. These were the gifts of President Comiskey and the Woodland Bards, a White Sox rooting organization.

St. Louis, Sept. 8.—Detroit and St. Louis set a seasons record for nine innings today when they played the first nine frames in one hour game in 1:08.

Cobb won the game for Detroit pled against the right field fence and scored on Veatch's sacrifice fly. It was a pitching duel between Daus-

MAVERICKS

A man named Hogg should be proud of his name these days.

There will be no joy in the heart of the small boy tomorrow.

Looking Backward from the Year 10,000

In excavating on the site of ancient city of Peoria records were found which show that in the 20th century the inhabitants of that city made a product from corn called whiskey. It was used principally it is thought for medicinal purposes.

If there was any doubt that this war is not the people's war it surely was dispelled in thousands of cities and towns throughout the United States the past week by the demonstrations given to departing men for the new National Army.

If all the money could be pooled that the American public pays in tips to the Pullman porters, hotel bell hops, waiters, shoe shiners, bartenders and the industrious young men who insist in wearing out your clothing in the hotel lavatory and turned over to the government, there would be no need of bond issues to carry on the war.

If Mayor Thompson wins all those suits and collects the money he should be able to go to Germany and live in ease the remainder of his days.

A man named Benedicto has been named treasurer of Porto Rico. He probably is a relative of our old friend, Benedictine.

Evangelist Billy Sunday is receiving threatening letters out in Los Angeles, Calif. This only goes to show that Mr. Sunday's excellent press agent is still on the job.

We don't know just what "No Man's Land" looks like but we imagine that it resembles the condition of some of the city's streets at the present time.

Phil Ball owner of the St. Louis league team told his players recently that he would pay them according to the kind of ball they were furnishing. Judging from the standing of the club this year Mr. Ball will get some mighty cheap ball next year.

Mayor Bill Thompson showed a little horse sense last week when he decided not to attend the republican roundup at the Kankakee fair.

A few years ago George Stallings was termed the miracle man of base ball because he won the National league flag and then defeated Connie Mack's superb machine four straight games for the world's championship.
Then when Fred Mitchell, Stallings' assistant was sold to the Chicago Cubs to manage that team the press stories that went with the sale were to the effect that Mitchell and not Stallings was the real reason for the wonderful Brave machine.
Now Stallings and Mitchell have both failed in the National league race. So after all it looks like even a miracle man needs a great pitching staff and eight other good ball players to win a pennant and world's series.

two men to single and Vaughn re-three runs. Two singles and a sacrifice scored another run in the

In this picture the camera caught MME. SUNDELIUS as she was singing in comparison with the New Edison's Re-Creation of her wonderful voice in "Batti, Batti, O bel Ma-setto", from Don Giovanni. Mme. Sundelius is the newest of Metropolitan Opera Stars. Ask to hear the Re-Creation of her lovely voice on the New Edison.

This is the EDISON Way

The Edison Laboratories do not cull the dictionary for adjectives. Mr. Edison and his associates say there is no need for adjectives in describing The New Edison. The record of an artist's voice is not a Re-Creation of that voice unless it will sustain this test:

"The Voice Re-Creation is placed on the New Edison. The artist stands beside the instrument and sings. Suddenly and without warning the artist ceases singing, and the New Edison takes up the song alone.

"Mark this well: The Re-Creation of the artist's voice must be so perfect that those who listen, with closed eyes, cannot tell when the artist has ceased to sing."

THE NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

is positively the only sound producing instrument which is submitted to this test and is positively the only one capable of sustaining such a test.

Mr. Edison and his laboratory associates would like to have you hear this wonderful new instrument at our store. You are welcome, and you will not be urged to buy.

Brady Bros.

NOTICE—Please do not ask us to sell you Edison Re-Creations if you intend to attempt to play them on any other instrument than the New Edison. No other instrument can bring out the true musical quality of Edison Re-Creations. Furthermore, injury to the records is likely to result if you attempt to play them on an ordinary phonograph or talking machine.

RUSSIAN REVOLUTION CAUSES MENTAL DISEASE

Characterized by Prof. Rosenbach as "Mass Psychosis"—Similar French Revolution.

Petrograd, Aug. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press) — The Russian Revolution has produced a mental disease which is characterized by Prof. P. J. Rosenbach, president of the Association of Psychiatrists, as "mass psychosis." In other words, the birth of political freedom has been driving many persons insane.

It is a mistake to assume that war makes men mad, according to Prof. Rosenbach who says that during the war he has treated between 6,000 and 7,000 insane soldiers but that in no case did he discover that the victim's mental affliction had been caused by war horrors or privations.

During the first month of the Revolution the rate of morbidity from mental disease rose an astonishing extent. Prof. Rosenbach inquired into the victims' antecedents and found, he says, that these men and women had been entirely normal and that they did not come from tainted families. He ascribes their sudden insanity to the sudden and drastic changes in Russian political, social and intellectual life. One of the symptoms of "mass psychosis," he says, is "infatuation with committees, delegations and demonstrations."

Similar phenomena were observed during the French Revolution after the war of 1870-71, Prof. Rosenbach observes.

May Establish Diplomatic Relations
Peking, August — Announcement of Siam's declaration of war against Germany is regarded by Chinese officials, especially those familiar with international politics in the Far East, as a step which may well result in the establishment of diplomatic relations between China and Siam.

Siam has steadfastly refused to exchange ministers with China. But with these two nations as allies, they will be thrown together in the peace conference in such a way that they might be expected to agree to the permanent establishment of diplomatic relations.

China has at least two million subjects in Siam. They are among the leading business men of that country. Consequently the Chinese government is especially anxious to have diplomatic relations between the two governments.

Japanese Competition Causes

Anxiety to Dutch Cotton Spinners
Rotterdam, Netherlands, Aug. — Japanese competition on the Netherlands East Indian market is causing anxiety to Dutch cotton spinners and weavers. The chamber points out that Japan's situation, the shorter transport and especially the consignment and war risks premium, give a considerable difference in marine insurance. Japan a big advantage over Holland in the Dutch colonial market. Japanese spinners are able to draw the necessary raw cotton from the United States, and their regular import is assured.

THESE ARE THE DAYS WHEN MONEY SAVING COUNTS

Our New Grocery Sales Plan Points the Way to Increase the Buying Power of Your Dollars

Beginning MONDAY Sept. 10th Prices Will Be Permanently Reduced at Our Store.

A Price Cutting Sale Lasts Only a Few Days But Our Plan Means Every Day Economy In Buying.

Pay for your Groceries and carry them home at these lower prices. If we charge and deliver your order the price will be slightly higher, but even then lower than present levels.

For years the question has been asked, "If I buy my groceries and take them home with me thus saving you delivery cost, why don't I get a lower price?" There wasn't a real good answer to this question until now.

The plan of remedying this condition was outlined by the Grocers Efficiency Bureau of Chicago and is being adopted by successful stores all over the country.

The Plan In a Nutshell

FIRST—Material reduction in prices. Prices will be reduced and marked in plain figures so every customer can see the price on every article.

SECOND—We deliver. Our delivery system will be maintained just as efficient and serviceable as in the past, but in view of the reduced prices there will be a charge of 5 cents for each delivery regardless of the size or cost of the order.

THE NEW SYSTEM GIVES YOU THE OPPORTUNITY TO SAVE THIS COST OF DELIVERY IF YOU PREFER.

THIRD—We extend credit. Our credit service is one of the big features of our business, and it is our intention to continue to extend credit; yet, considering the reduced prices, for credit service we will have to charge the small sum of 2 cents on each dollar or fraction thereof.

THIS ENABLES YOU TO SAVE THE COST OF KEEPING YOUR CREDIT ACCOUNT IF YOU PREFER.

Note and Compare These Prices and You Will See the Savings

	Old	New
1 lb. C & S Coffee	30c	27c
6 Bars Lenox Soap	36	25
1 pkg. Krispy Crackers	15	13
1 Loaf Bread	10	9
2 lb Can Baked Beans	20	15
5 lb. Granulated Sugar	60	50
	$1.71	$1.39

If delivery service is desired the extra charge is five cents. If the goods are charged add 2 cents on the dollar. With both of these added, the prices will mean sharp savings. The reason for these lower prices lies in the fact of the more cash business we will do, with less expense.

Come into our store Monday. You will find the most dependable goods, all marked in big, plain, red figures. Just remember, a saving in your grocery bill of 10 cents a day means the goodly sum of $36 per year.

FARMER PATRONS—Our plan gives you lower prices because you always take your purchases with you. We pay cash for farm produce.

MOVING OF ARTILLERY BATTERIES HUGE TASK

Description of Process of Transfer Written by Lieut. Colville—Routine of Each Day Like that of the First.

Behind the British Lines in France Sept. — (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Assault on a new point in the German lines in the West, such as was begun during the past few weeks in Flanders, is preceded by weeks of preparatory activity. The moving up to their new positions of hundreds of batteries of artillery is only one of this preparatory activity, but one which requires an infinite amount of labor and transport.

To move a battery of howitzers from the old Vimy Ridge battlefield to the new Flanders battle field requires roughly four or five days. An account of this process of transfer has been written for The Associated Press by Lieut. K. N. Colville, attached to "000" heavy battery, Royal Garrison Artillery. He writes:

"We were not sorry to leave Petticourt. Its last occupants had been certain Huns and these folk are not at the least of times very desirable tenants, while their time in occupation had latterly been very far from 'best', even not good, in fact. Long before they left, the houses had been suffered to fall into a state of disrepair that they were driven to living in the cellars which they had enlarged and deepened for the purpose. Here they had spent days at a time without emerging to the light of heaven, and the sanitary arrangements what ever they may have been had evidently broken down badly.

Tragedy of the Gunner's Life.

"000 Heavy Battery, G. A. in due course came to occupy the scene of the devastation which itself had helped to create. This, indeed, is the tragedy of the Heavy Gunner's life. He arrives opposite some pleasant tree-swathed village, admires from his point of vantage across the valley the white chateau, and thinks enviously of the comfortable quarters it is affording to the other side. In a few months, it is his turn to occupy that promised land. But, alas, he wishes himself back on Pisgah, away from the smell and filth and the ghastly ruin of this shell torn place.

"Such a spot was Petticourt, and we were not sorry when we learned that our work here was done, and that we were going to go and repeat the operation elsewhere. For before we could again ply our grim task there must be a brief interval of movement, of the road, of the comradeship it brings to men and horses.

"We had a day or two to make preparations for our journey, and the time was fully occupied. At a pinch we could move at few hours' notice, but trench warfare encourages one to accumulate stores and articles of luxury which may as well be properly disposed of if possible, for nothing of it all can be taken except the equipment laid down. So our surplus stores were returned to Ordnance and our odds and ends of furniture, home-made beds and tables saved from the ruins of the village were distributed among our neighbors. Then, the day before the start the guns were pulled out from Petticourt, and the whole battery, united once more, spent the night down at the wagon lines, all ready for an early start next morning.

Rate Is Common in Battle Area.

"A light rain was falling, a thing so common in the battle area that we have ceased to count it as good or evil; it is a part of the persistent order of nature. The vocalists of the battery caroled snatches of all manner of songs, sentimental, burlesque or bellicose. One of the last kind proudly told how:

"We fought them on the Marne,

"We fought them on the Aisne;

"We gave them Hell at New Chapelle,

"And here we are again!"

At last the appointed hour arrived and the cortege, half a mile long, filed out in column of route on to the road.

"All morning we wound along; our progress was slow, for there was much traffic on the roads and we had two villages to pass thru. We could not take the direct north and south route to our destination, for that would entail too much crossing of the main lines of transport. We must go back to one of the hubs from which these lines radiate, like spokes and from these turn back along the spoke that leads to our assigned point on the iron-girt wheel's perimeter.

"Hill-day brings a long halt, in the neighborhood of water troughs, and a drink and a bite of food for man and beast. The rain has lifted the sound of gun-fire has died away behind us.

"After dinner one of the Subalterns, with a sergeant and an orderly goes on to see to our night's billet. The essentials which the billeting officer must keep in mind are these: Horses, men and officers must be close together. The vehicles must be parked so as to be easily pulled out on the morrow. Room to turn the guns there must be and the standing must be good or the wheels will be deep in the soft grounds by morning. The horses stand in an open field, into which some of the limbered wagons are taken for the picketing ropes to be made fast to, the other vehicles are parked in by-roads. At night the horses are taken to water, brought back, rubbed down, fed and left in charge of a picket, while the men go to their billets and the welcome meal which the cooks have been preparing.

"There are batteries moving in the same road and one must go out first in the morning. We elect to move first next morning, so we must be up and about early, for there is plenty to do before 'boot and saddle!' The horses must be watered, groomed and fed, the men must breakfast and their kit be stowed. The routine of this day and its successors is like that of the first. As we move further back, which we do for the first two days, the country changes. Further back the country wears a more prosperous air than in the war-worn parts we have come from. Our second night, indeed, is spent in town where the civilian element outnumbers the British soldiery and the houses are real houses and not a nights' lodging for so many 'hommes' and so many 'chevaux', with particular attention drawn to the commodiousness of their 'caves'.

"Occasionally we pass other units moving up. Once we pass another Heavy Battery returning to the line after a long rest. Its paintwork gleams and the metal twinkles, and its horses are glossy and fat. We envy them a little as we look sadly at our own dear, weatherbitten 'hairs'. The incoming gunners look a little contemptuously at our much scraped paint and dull harness.

"By the end of the fourth day we are getting near the firing line again. We see archie' bursts in the sky ahead of us; we see sausage' balloons, and we pass numberless 'dumps' of ammunition, timber, supply and the rest. That night we are billeted in the village where our wagon lines are in future to be and the next day a short march will take us up to our position in action. But only the guns and a very few wagons will perform that journey. It will be long before the battery as a whole takes the road again. The trek is over. Once again we are face to face with the 'Hun'."

Cadets to Study Japanese.

Sydney, Australia, Sept. — The cadets at Australia's "West Point", the Royal Military College at Duntroon have begun the study of Japanese under a specially appointed teacher. It is also proposed that Japanese be made a part of the curriculum at the Royal Australian Naval college at Jervis Bay. In addition to this the instructor in Japanese at Duntroon will conduct classes in that language at Sydney University.

In furtherance of the general scheme of making Australians conversant with the Japanese language it has been decided to invite several more Japanese teachers to settle in the expectation that, after the war, the trade relations between the Commonwealth and Japan will assume very large proportions.

Pershing Descendant of Abreton Family

Paris, Sept. — The report that the ancestors of Major General Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, were an Alsatian family which emigrated to America in 1719 has met with immediate acceptance in France, where the General has made a wonderful impression on all, civil or military, who have contact with him. A Frenchman's idea of what an American general is in no way resembled the head of the American Expeditionary Force and it must be admitted that French admiration and enthusiasm have been all the greater on that account.

Pershing Descendant of Abreton Family

Paris, Sept. — The report that the ancestors of Major General Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, were an Alsatian family which emigrated to America in 1719 has met with immediate acceptance in France, where the General has made a wonderful impression on all, civil or military, who have contact with him. A Frenchman's idea of what an American general is in no way resembled the head of the American Expeditionary Force and it must be admitted that French admiration and enthusiasm have been all the greater on that account.

A certain number of protestant families left Alsace in the eighteenth century owing to restrictions imposed by Louis XIV's government on the free exercise of their religion.

and a drink and a bite of food for man and beast. The rain has lifted the sound of gun-fire has died away behind us.

"After dinner one of the Subalterns, with a sergeant and an orderly goes on to see to our night's billet. The essentials which the billeting officer must keep in mind are these: Horses, men and officers must be close together. The vehicles must be parked so as to be easily pulled out on the morrow. Room to turn the guns there must be and the standing must be good or the wheels will be deep in the soft grounds by morning. The horses stand in an open field, into which some of the limbered wagons are taken for the picketing ropes to be made fast to, the other vehicles are parked in by-roads. At night the horses are taken to water, brought back, rubbed down, fed and left in charge of a picket, while the men go to their billets and the welcome meal which the cooks have been preparing.

"There are batteries moving in the same road and one must go out first in the morning. We elect to move first next morning, so we must be up and about early, for there is plenty to do before 'boot and saddle!' The horses must be watered, groomed and fed, the men must breakfast and their kit be stowed. The routine of this day and its successors is like that of the first. As we move further back, which we do for the first two days, the country changes. Further back the country wears a more prosperous air than in the war-worn parts we have come from. Our second night, indeed, is spent in town where the civilian element outnumbers the British soldiery and the houses are real houses and not a nights' lodging for so many 'hommes' and so many 'chevaux', with particular attention drawn to the commodiousness of their 'caves'.

"Occasionally we pass other units moving up. Once we pass another Heavy Battery returning to the line after a long rest. Its paintwork gleams and the metal twinkles, and its horses are glossy and fat. We envy them a little as we look sadly at our own dear, weatherbitten 'hairs'. The incoming gunners look a little contemptuously at our much scraped paint and dull harness.

"By the end of the fourth day we are getting near the firing line again. We see archie' bursts in the sky ahead of us; we see sausage' balloons, and we pass numberless 'dumps' of ammunition, timber, supply and the rest. That night we are billeted in the village where our wagon lines are in future to be and the next day a short march will take us up to our position in action. But only the guns and a very few wagons will perform that journey. It will be long before the battery as a whole takes the road again. The trek is over. Once again we are face to face with the 'Hun'."

Cadets to Study Japanese.

Sydney, Australia, Sept. — The cadets at Australia's "West Point", the Royal Military College at Duntroon have begun the study of Japanese under a specially appointed teacher. It is also proposed that Japanese be made a part of the curriculum at the Royal Australian Naval college at Jervis Bay. In addition to this the instructor in Japanese at Duntroon will conduct classes in that language at Sydney University.

In furtherance of the general scheme of making Australians conversant with the Japanese language it has been decided to invite several more Japanese teachers to settle in the expectation that, after the war, the trade relations between the Commonwealth and Japan will assume very large proportions.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Woman Saved From a Serious Surgical Operation.

Louisville, Ky.—"For four years I suffered from female troubles, headaches, and nervousness. I could not sleep, had no appetite and it hurt me to walk. If I tried to do any work, I would have to lie down before it was finished. The doctors said I would have to be operated on and I simply broke down. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the result is I feel like a new woman. I am well and strong, do all my own house work and have an eight pound baby girl. I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which every woman dreads."—Mrs. NELLIE FISBACK, 1521 Caristy Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Everyone naturally dreads the surgeon's knife. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved the patient and made an operation unnecessary.

If you have any symptom about which you would like to know, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for help and advice given free.

EFFECT OF NEW GERMAN GAS SHELLS DESCRIBED

Whole Town Literally Poisoned and Entire Population Forced to Remove—Proportion of Deaths to Number of People Affected Not High.

Paris, Aug. 11.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Further details have been obtained about the new gas shells which the Germans are now using, and their effect upon the persons who breathe the fumes. Armentieres is the first town in the annals of history to have been literally poisoned to such a degree that its civil population has had to be removed lest it should be entirely destroyed.

While heavy shells were rained on the houses, forcing the people to take refuge in the cellars, a multitude of small shells, not powerful enough to smash a pavement stone, fell everywhere, in street and courtyard and garden. These shells contain no gas or powder, but a colorless liquid which spreads over the ground. Only very slightly volatile, the liquid leaves traces for hours after the shell has exploded. It evaporates very slowly, producing a heavy gas which filters downward and reaches the cellars where refuge has been sought.

Takes Time to Produce Effect. This gas, remarkably treacherous, has made more victims among women than among men, because it penetrates the hair and remains there, while tobacco smoke has proved an unexpected protection for men. The odor is described by some as recalling acetylene, by others as resembling mignonette, but the majority say it is like hot mustard. It takes some time to produce its effects.

Inhabitants of Armentieres who have breathed its emanations in the morning, when walking in the town, have been able to return home without feeling any effect, but five or six hours later they have been obliged to go to bed, and their condition has rapidly become serious.

The bronchial tubes are affected first, the eyelids become swollen, and little by little the sight is lost. All the mucous membranes are attacked and the body seems on fire inside, while burns (which doctors described as of the "second degree") cover the skin. Continuous coughing sets in, with a fever temperature, the skin becomes dull and sickly and the affliction proves fatal in many cases.

A British army medical officer, protected by a mask, exposed himself to the gas for a quarter of an hour as an experiment, and was burned all over the body, except where the mask protected his head and on the wrist where the strap of his wrist watch offered protection.

Priest is Victim of War. Father Camelot, dean of Saint-Vaast at Armentieres, was poisoned, little by little, as he performed his sacred duties. The town, since November, 1916, has been reduced to a single parish and Father Camelot took charge of it, "wishing," as he said, "to remain there as long as a single soul remained." He is the fifth priest of Armentieres to be a victim of the war.

The British Army Medical Service is making every effort to analyze the liquid thus used for producing this gas. Its emanations have an analogy with the tear-producing gas, which blinds for a time, but the effects of the new poison are infinitely more severe.

French investigation of the liquid tends to show that it is not a new thing but a mixture of sulphide and chlorine, already studied and known but never before used in this manner. The proportion of deaths to the number of people affected is not high, not one percent, for the northern towns, but the number of people affected may be very great.

The public has been advised that if, during an air raid, the smell of mustard essence is noted, to move to the upper stories, to breathe thru a compress soaked with a certain solution. Women have been told to wrap their hair in a wet cloth. Sawdust, sand or earth should be thrown on any of the liquid that may be seen before it has evaporated, the authorities have warned; and finally, if any serious case arises and no doctor is at hand, vomiting should be produced as rapidly as possible and then large quantities of milk should be drunk.

FREE KINDERGARTEN OPENING

The regular September meeting Board Free Kindergarten will be held on Monday, Sept. 10th, 3 p. m. in the Library. This meeting is the first of school year, and of very great importance. Let each member now in town feel under obligation to be present. It is urged most emphatically that each one attend.

The Free Kindergarten of our city will open on Monday, Sept. 10, in room of David Prince building, with Miss Claribel Hopper in charge. The work is of great importance and value this year, in view of present conditions.

No work in our city is more far-reaching, or brings more lasting and valuable results. It is a trumpet call to service for all who desire the setting of little feet in the pure, straight paths of righteousness and truth. Children under school age are enabled to have the right so impressed upon them, that all after life is influenced thereby. Let all who love little ones and desire pure, honest, upright manhood and womanhood, come up to help in this good work against the evil that so soon engulfs the little child uncaared for.

The Board of Directors controls the work of various committees, and an annually gifted and efficient Kindergarten is in charge.

ATTENDANCE RECORD WILL BE BROKEN

This is the indication for the Jacksonville High School—Teachers, Principals and Officers Held Conference Saturday.

Saturday morning there was a general teachers meeting held at the old Prince school building by Supl. Perrin for the purpose of a discussion of plans for the year. After this meeting each principal held a meeting at one of the various school buildings.

Principal Callahan of the high school reported Saturday that 409 students had registered to date. This is a larger number than was registered at this time last year and the indications are that the total enrollment for the high school will be well over the 450 mark before the close of the school year.

All the schools open Monday, at which time each pupil will be given the official book list. This list will contain both the books required for the various grades and the price therefor.

Tuesday morning regular class work will be started and it is important that every child be present and begin the year's work at this time. The only exceptions to be made will be in case of the students of the open air school, which is not yet ready for occupancy.

All teachers were present at the meeting Saturday morning with the exception of Miss Rose Loneragan of the Jefferson school who is still in the hospital. Miss Peak of the open air school staff, will take care of Miss Loneragan's first grade work, until the regular instructor is able to resume her duties.

MRS. C. GOEBEL BUYS THE SIXTH BUICK

Mrs. C. Goebel will hereafter ride comfortably with her family and friends in a seven passenger Buick car she has bought of Howard Zahn.

BIG SHIPMENT OF ROCK.

A shipment of rock totaling more than 20 cars was received Saturday by the Standard Paving Company for the concrete work on Prairie street. A few cars have been shipped each day for the past week but the railroad bunched the cars and brought them in Saturday. This increases the difficulty of unloading the rock promptly but the company is nevertheless pleased to receive this shipment, as there were indications for a time that work would be delayed on the pavement because of lack of material.

COUNTY FARMERS INSTITUTE

The Morgan county farmers' institute will be held this year at Waverly Oct. 25 and 26. The committee on program is already at work and indications point to an institute of unusual interest. In addition to the program of speeches the committee is expecting that there will be a large entry list of exhibits.

DECLARES TALKING IS REAL PLEASURE

Mrs. Day Says She's Glad To Discuss Her Experience With Tanlac

Mrs. Sophia Day, 1079 North Diamond street, has been a resident of Jacksonville for the past thirty-eight years and she is known and highly respected here. Many people will no doubt be interested in what Mrs. Day has to say about Tanlac, the celebrated new medicine.

"Stomach trouble and nervousness have bothered me for several years," she told the Tanlac Man on June 5. "My system generally was all run down. My food didn't digest properly and I would be greatly annoyed by a full feeling in my stomach after meals. I seemed to have no ambition or energy and just had to drag myself around all day."

"After I had learned of the good work Tanlac was doing for so many local people it didn't take me long to decide to try it. One bottle of Tanlac has made me feel much better generally. My nerves are really in fine condition now, and my stomach never bothers me hardly at all. My food digests properly now and I scarcely ever notice the full feeling after meals. I've been benefited greatly and I'm glad to let my friends know that I think Tanlac is a fine medicine."

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Jacksonville at the East and West side stores of the Coover-Shrove Drug Co. It is sold in Waverly at the Wyle Drug Co.; in New Berlin at the New Berlin Drug Co.; in Ashland at H. O. Brownback's; in Versailles at A. G. Bates; in Chapin at F. P. McKinney's; in Roodhouse at W. D. Berry's; in White Hall at the City Drug store; in Bluffs at F. T. Curtis; in Pittsfield at J. H. Barber & Co.; in Loami at L. M. Van Deren's; in Diverston at E. G. Haug's; in Manchester at C. D. BROAD DEMAND FOR
CORN LIFTS PRICE

Market Closes Unsettled at 1 to 1½ Cents Net Higher—Oats and Provision Raise.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Broad demand for corn resulted today from crop maturity being too long delayed to escape killing frosts. The market closed unsettled, 1c to 1½c net higher, at $1.15½ to $1.17½. December and $1.11½ to $1.11½. May. Oats bulged ½c to ¾c and provisions 2c to 3c. Investors purchased corn freely and shorts also covered on a large scale.
Profit-taking sales led at times to reactions but only of a moderate extent. It was denied that there was any likelihood of a change in maximum prices here until after October 1, if then. A good deal from the seaboard did a active call to lift the value of oats.

Wheat receipts here continued scanty and were absorbed by millers. Latest figures from last year made the total 75,000,000 bushels. On the basis of last year's consumption, this would mean about 200,000,000 bushels available for export.
Provisions rose in response to the government report showing a reduction of more than 5,000,000 hogs on farms as compared with a year ago.
